MODERN SOCIETY – BALANCE WITH NATURE IFPRA Europe in the Finnish Midsummer

The 2009 international Ifpra Europe Congress will be held in Mikkeli Finland on 15th -17th June 2009. A congress Pre Tour on 12th - 14th June 2009 will be arranged in Helsinki and Kotka and a Post Tour in Punkaharju and Heinävesi on 18th - 20th June 2009.

The theme for the congress is "Modern Society - Balance with Nature". We expect some 400 professionals around Europe and worldwide to participate in the event. IFPRA, founded in 1957, has international contact with professionals in charge of parks, recreation areas, public spaces and areas for leisure time and services connected to them. IFPRA has members in more than 50 countries.

We aim to gather together professionals like you, who offer solutions for the challenges the Open Space sector is facing all over the world. These include health issues and the need for more cost effective products and services and for more people friendly cityscapes. Solutions are also needed to the challenges of global warming and its effects on town planning and development and Open Space design, which includes green landscapes, plants and structures

The Congress will provide excellent network possibilities, new business opportunities and the opportunity to gain information about the Open Space sector. This will include the latest thinking on the global and local situation and where the Open Space sector is heading.

The Organisers invite you to the Congress to promote your products and services! There is to be an Exhibition associated with the Congress, which will be held at the Mikaeli Centre in Mikkeli adjacent to the picturesque Lake Pankalampi right at the heart of the City.
